Hymn of 108 Names of Sri Vedavyasa

A Sanskrit composition by Swami Yogananda Sarasvati Yam vedaśāstra-parinīṣṭhita-śuddhabuddhim carmāṁbaram sura-munināda-nutam prasannam | Kṛṣṇa-tviṣam kanaka-piṅga-jaṭā-kalāpam vyāsāṃ namāmi śirasā tilakam muninām ||

He whose pure intelligence is perfectly established in the Vedic texts, whose cloth is a deer skin, who is praised by gods and great sages, who is serene, whose complexion is dark blue, and whose matted locks are tanned like gold, with my head,
I bow to that Vyasa who is the Ornament among sages.

Avidyā-timirādityam
brahmavidyā-vaśāradam |
Śāradā-śaṅkarātmānām
Bhāratītīrtham-āśraye ||

I take refuge in His Holiness Sri Bharati Tirtha who is the Sun dispelling the darkness of ignorance, who is well versed in the knowledge of Brahman and who is the embodiment of Sharada and Shankara.
